NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE SCORED BEFORE COMMITTEE

SENATE BANKING COMMITTEE VOTES TO CREATE NEW RULING COMMISSION

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—The New York stock exchange scored a smashing victory in the senate banking committee today by a 10 to 8 vote to create a new commission to regulate the exchanges instead of giving jurisdiction to the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Trade Commission.

The committee adopted an amendment to the stock market bill offered by Senator Glass (D-Va.), upsetting plans of the bill's authors and President Roosevelt to have the exchanges regulated by the two existing governmental agencies.

As it now stands, a commission of three members appointed by the President and confirmed by the senate, would be set up to exercise all the powers the bill originally proposed to turn over to the reserve board and the trade commission.

Friends of the original legislation planned to carry their fight to the senate floor, and with President Roosevelt's expressed support, were hopeful of final victory.

One of the warmest battles over the stock market bill when it first came out was centered on the proposal for control by the Federal Trade Commission, with the stock exchange and other critics asking for a new and separate agency.

Extension of the legislation listed this had been the case ever, when President Roosevelt let it be known he favored ad-

LONG'S CHARGES DENIED MONDAY BY MOORE, SULLIVAN

LOUISIANA SENATOR OPPOSING CONFIRMATION MOORE AS REVENUE COLLECTOR

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—Colonel John F. Sullivan, New Orleans lawyer, denied before the senate finance committee today that he dictated the nomination of E. D. Moore, as internal revenue collector of Louisiana, as asserted by Senator Huey Long.

Sullivan also said he had never in his life been connected with gambling.

Sullivan, 50-year-old Spanish American war veteran, questioned by Edward R. Long, counsel for Moore, said:

"I don't know how to gamble. I might say perhaps to my mortification, that I don't know how to roll dice.

"I can't even read a racing form, he added, although previous testimony by Colonel E. B. Bradley, Kentucky horse breeder, had been that Sullivan owned 33 1-4 per cent of the stock in the Kentucky race track in New Orleans.

Sullivan also denied Long's charges that he had profited from "handbook" operations, and said he had been active to stamp out the practice.

Long also had asserted that Sullivan dominated the revenue office since Moore took charge.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—D. D. Moore, appointed internal revenue collector for Louisiana, by President Roosevelt, told the

GOLD CONTINUES TO POUR INTO UNITED STATES SINCE DOLLAR WAS DEVALUED EARLY IN YEAR

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, April 9.—(P)—The Midas touch which Uncle Sam seems to have acquired since devaluation of the dollar has brought well over $600,000,000 in foreign gold to the United States.

The amount of metal imported since the dollar was devalued to 15 1/2 cents January 31, is continuing, and rapidly approaching $700,000,000, which would be more than the entire monetary gold reserve of any single country save the United States, France, England, or Spain.

The bulk of this gold has come from England, and although the London gold price has been holding for sometime within 25 or 30 cents of American gold price, of $35 an ounce, there still seems to be sufficient profit in the operation to prompt foreign exchange operators to buy gold in London and sell it to the U. S. Treasury.

Although most of the gold has

Information On Barrow Should Go Dallas - Austin

AUSTIN, April 9.—(P)—L. A. Phares, chief of the State Highway patrol, today asked persons having information concerning Clyde Barrow and his companion in crime, Bonnie Parker, to notify the Highway Patrol at Austin and the Department of Justice at Dallas simultaneously with local officers.

"Barrow and Parker are seen in North Texas, the department of Justice at Dallas should be notified first," Phares said. "If they are seen in Central or South Texas, the information should be given first to the Highway patrol."

Austin and Dallas are headquarters for the two law agencies whose members are concentrating on the widespread manhunt. From those control points, he explained, reinforcements can be dispatched immediately to any vicinity where the two desperados may be.

Some important information regarding the hunt has been late reaching the Highway patrol, Phares said.

STOCK EXCHANGE CONTROL BILL IS RADICALLY CHANGED

COMMITTEE GOES OPPOSITE PLANS PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN MEASURE

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—Amendment of the stock exchange control bill in a manner contrary to President Roosevelt's wishes was today's big surprise in the capital.

By a 10 to 8 vote that attracted much notice, the senate finance committee, of which Senator Glass (D-Va.) is chairman, accepted a proposal by Glass to have a new commission of three regulate the exchanges rather than leaving it to the federal reserve board and federal trade commission. The bill's framers are going to carry the dispute into senate consideration, looking for added support from the white house.

On the house side, friends of the McLeod bill for payment of deposits in certain closed banks filed a petition to get it up for floor consideration, leaving the banking committee. There

Hudson Motors Forced Close On Account Strike

DETROIT, April 9.—(P)—The Hudson Motor Car Company announced a shut-down, effective at 1 p. m. today, because of inability to obtain parts, particularly those manufactured by the Motor Products Company, where a strike is in progress.

The shut down was announced by J. Edward Schipper, public relations representative of the company, who said "the plant will remain shut until we get a new source of supply or the strike at Motor Products is settled."

Approximately 1,000 workers of the Motor Products Company went on strike last week, their walk out resulting in a suspension of work by about 4,800 other employees of the company.

Edward P. McGrady, assistant to General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA head, who is sitting with the federal automobile labor board here, said that the Motor Products strike "is considered the key problem confronting the labor tribunal and added that the strike in that plant "must be halted" unless the booming automobile industry is to be paralyzed at the height of the production season.

DONATIONS LISTS OF INDEPENDENTS GIVEN AT HEARING

FORT WORTH MAN CLAIMS ASSOCIATION SUBSIDIZED BY MAJORS

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—Donations by major oil companies to the Independent Petroleum Association of America were listed before the NRA review board today in support of claims that the planning and co-ordination committee, which co-operates with the federal oil administration, is dominated by the big companies.

The list was submitted by W. G. Williams of Fort Worth, Texas, a critic of the petroleum code and its administration, who said it came from the office of the treasurer of the association.

Two members of the personnel of the Independent Petroleum Association occupy official positions on the planning and co-ordination committee.

Williams denied he was employed by the Danziger Refineries in Texas, long foes of oil proration in that state, but agreed the Danziger organization paid part of his expenses.

He said the list showed contributions of $5,000 from the Consolidated Oil Corporation, $2,000 from the Atlantic Refining Company, $10,000 from the Texas Corporation, $2,000 from Standard of Ohio, and $5,000 from Standard of California.

Names Major Representatives Williams added that "Mr. Holliday" of the planning and co-ordination committee was an officer of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio and that "Mr. Kingsbury," a former member of the committee,

Body of Julian Still Held For Funeral Expense

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

SHANGHAI, April 9.—(P)—An undertaker is beginning to wonder what to do with the body of C. C. Julian, former Oklahoma and California oil operator who killed himself.

Upon order of British authorities, after the Canadian-born fugitive from Oklahoma justice took poison March 25, the firm prepared to cremate the body and arranged for a simple funeral.

Then came instructions from Julian's sister in Los Angeles, Mrs. Viola Greenhow, to have the body cremated and the ashes sent to America.

The undertaker today, however, said that no money had been received for expenses, despite repeated queries sent to Los Angeles.

The wife of the one-time millionaire who died in poverty, was said to have sent funds from her home in Winnipeg, Canada, to "insure burial."

Yet the body now lies in an obsequies parlour of the undertaker's, giving the sister in Los Angeles time to claim the ashes if she still desires.

WINNIPEG, April 9.—(P)—Surprise was expressed by Mrs. C. C. Julian here today when she read a report from Shanghai that no money had arrived there to pay for the burial of her husband, former oil operator who committed suicide.

"There must be some mistake," she said. "I sent $200 to the British Consul-general in Shanghai through the bank some time ago for this purpose."

CURRIE GINER IS FOUND DEAD IN AUTO DUE HEART ATTACK

CURRIE, April 9.—(Spl.)—Lee Boone said today when he found dead in his automobile about 10 o'clock Monday morning. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He was returning to his home at taking his daughter, Lela, to school when stricken, the car nosing into a ditch alongside the highway.

The deceased had been in ill health for several months, and had stopped at a store in Currie after going to the school. He is survived by his wife, two sons, and two daughters. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon Monday.

Mr. Boone moved to Currie in 1922 from Mt. Thelma in East Texas, and had been associated with his son in the gin business for the past twelve years.

SOUTHWEST PEACE OFFICERS TOLD TO GET CLYDE BARROW

NO REST UNTIL PHANTOM KILLER IS CAPTURED; DILLINGER ALSO IN AREA

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—(P)—Southwestern peace officers went to work today with the knowledge that there would be no rest for them until Clyde Barrow is captured.

Accused of a dozen slayings, the phantom desperado and his woman companion, Bonnie Parker, still were at large following their latest adventure in crime—the slaying of Cal Campbell, Miami, Okla., constable.

At the same time officers were under orders to watch for another elusive desperado, John "Wooden Gun" Dillinger, now reported to be in the Southwest.

Week end developments in the search for the two:

Discovery of Barrow's abandoned motor car with two bullet holes in the windshield, near Ottawa, Kas., approximately 100 miles from where the killer and his two companions released Percy Boyd, Commerce, Okla., chief of police who was kidnapped following the slaying of Campbell.

A letter from Raymond Hamilton, escaped Texas convict, to a Dallas lawyer, disclaiming any connection with Barrow's activities since the $4,000 robbery on a Lancaster, Texas, bank, Feb. 27.

Belief expressed by Texas officers that Henry Methvin, who escaped from prison with Hamilton, had joined up with Barrow.

Sheriff's deputies and police of Yuma, Ariz., only a few miles from the Mexican border, ordered to maintain a vigil for Dillinger, the killer who escaped from the Crown Point, Ind., jail with a wooden pistol.

St. Louis city police also instructed to be on the lookout for Dillinger. Officers were informed by department of justice agents that he was believed to be traveling in a small motor car with

Stove Company Employees Go On Strike Monday

DETROIT, April 9.—(P)—Employees of the Detroit Michigan Stove Company, said by union officials, to number 800, went on strike this morning, seeking a 20 per cent wage increase and 36-hour, five-day work week.

The strikers immediately formed picket lines patrolling in orderly manner, but making no effort to stop workmen who went through the gates.

The strikers are all members of the Mechanics' Educational Society, which called the strike when negotiations with company officials last week failed.

The society also called a strike of tool and die makers for next Thursday night, if a "considered offer" of $2,668,842.71, wage increase and a 36-hour five day week, is not forthcoming from the job shop employers.

Coincided with this new strike, it is reported that 60 American Federation of Labor locals, through their representatives, had wired President Roosevelt criticizing the work of the federal automobile labor board, created to seek peace in the automotive industry.

The telegram was sent following a number of workers' meetings Sunday. At one of these meetings employees of the Motor Products Corporation on strike for several days, unanimously rejected a settlement plan proposed by the labor board.

Churchman Charged With Election Conspiracy

BISHOP CANNON AND AIDE ENTERED PLEAS NOT GUILTY

OLD CAMPAIGN ISSUES LIKELY TO BE RAISED IN CONSPIRACY TRIAL

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—The jury for the trial of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and Miss Ada L. Burroughs was completed this afternoon.

The Southern Methodist churchman and Miss Ada L. Burroughs of Richmond, Va., are charged with conspiring to violate election laws by failure to report all the anti-Smith contributions they received.

The charge developed from a senate committee investigation on which Cannon turned his back. Hat in hand, the gray-haired, defiant veteran of many an anti-liquor fight walked from the committee room as senators were putting questions to him.

Another committee with broader powers took up the inquiry. Its report went to the district attorney.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and Miss Ada L. Burroughs today pleaded "not guilty" in criminal court to a charge that they conspired to violate the corrupt practices act by failure to report all the anti-Smith presidential campaign contributions they received in 1928.

Miss Burroughs answered first in a quiet voice. Cannon, speaking loud enough to be heard throughout the court room, then said:

"Indications that issues that played a large part in the Hoover-Smith campaign more than five years ago would enter into the trial proceedings came when the court and counsel framed a question to test the jurors on their religious, prohibition and political views.

Twelve persons were called to the jury box immediately after the arraignment.

The text of the questions involving religious views which were asked collectively of the ten men and two women in the jury box, follows:

"Does the fact that Cannon is charged with opposing Alfred F. Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, on the ground that he was a member of the Roman Catholic church, and because said Smith was opposed to the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States prejudice you against said Cannon?"

CHURCHMAN CHARGED WITH ELECTION CONSPIRACY

Echoes of the 1928 presidential fight between Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, shown (right) as he appeared during the campaign, have not entirely died away. For Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and his secretary must answer charges of conspiring to violate election laws by failing to report all anti-Smith campaign contributions they received. Here are two studies of the widely-known churchman.

JAPAN'S ATTITUDE ON DISARMAMENT IS BEING WITHHELD

WILL SEE WHAT IS OFFERED AND THEN SAY WHAT NATION WILL DO

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

GENEVA, April 9.—(P)—As delegates gathered today for the forthcoming disarmament steering committee meeting, it was learned that Japan awaits the decisions of Europe on the fundamentals of the disarmament problem before adopting any concrete attitude herself.

Japan, it was said, may or may not accept a limitation agreement, depending upon what the projected treaty contains specifically in reference to penalties against nations which might violate the agreement.

Japan deems herself an infant as regards aviation and may not be able, it was understood, to accept her present status of air armaments as answering her defensive needs.

It was indicated that Japan is giving more importance to the interdependence of armaments. With a naval conference on the horizon, the Japanese are interested in not

ALLRED OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN AT BOWIE MONDAY AFTERNOON

ATTACKS LOBBYING AND LEGISLATORS WHO ACCEPT CORPORATION RETAINERS

BOWIE, April 9.—(P)—Attorney General James V. Allred today opened his campaign for governor with a vigorous attack on legislative lobbying practices and on members of the legislature who accept retainers from the corporations interested in legislation.

Allred was born and reared in Bowie.

Although he discussed several phases of governmental activities including the taxation, reforms in criminal court procedure and the pardon system, no mention was made of prohibition. Allred previously has been known as a dry who favors submission of repeal of the state prohibition.

Allred asserted effective control of lobbyists was the first step toward placing the state on a practical basis.

"So long as paid lobbyists of certain privileged interests are permitted to carry on, without adequate regulation, their practices during legislative sessions, we will make no progress whatever in dealing with the people's problem," Allred said. "Under corporate influence a system of lobbying has grown up which is a menace to free government."

"Few worthwhile measures are introduced in the legislature. But efforts are made to slip 'jokes' into the bill. The very lobby law we now have, ineffective as it is, has a 'joker' in it."

"Not all lobbyists are 'insincere' or 'out of line,'" Allred said, but many of them "employ every device to influence the legislature. The average legislator is not a politician, but a legislator and will not hesitate an intimidation to accomplish their ends."

Business Preyed Upon. Many business institutions have been driven to the same thing because of other cases as follows:

Each bill conceivably might require many days of debate. Passing a bill would leave sugar control, bankruptcy measures, communications regulation and others still up for attention.

The house, with its legislative calendar comparatively clean, gave over today to bills for the District of Columbia.

Only the stock market bill and possibly a measure for regulation of grain exchanges along with communications control and one or two more appropriations items remain on the "must" calendar of the house.

After disposing of the revenue bill, the senate will take up the air mail bill providing for return of this business to private operators providing they undergo drastic reorganization.

R. L. HOLLIDAY OF EL PASO REMOVED BY COKE STEVENSON

SOME MEMBERS BODY OBJECT TO REMOVAL AND NAMING OF DORENFELD

AUSTIN, April 9.—(P)—The Texas relief commission by a vote of 4 to 3, today seated Col. Julius Dorenfeld of Amarillo in place of R. L. Holliday of El Paso, as a member of the commission.

Dorenfeld said he would ask an opinion from the attorney general on the legality of his commission as a member of the relief board.

Holliday indicated he would oppose strenuously the effort to seat Dorenfeld and said he would remain at the commission meeting to challenge his vote on all questions.

Holliday purportedly has "been removed as a member of the commission by Speaker Coke Stevenson, who appointed him." Dorenfeld was named by Stevenson to succeed Holliday. Stevenson stated in a letter to the secretary of state that Holliday was removed for cause. Holliday has been involved in a controversy with El Paso labor leaders over relief in El Paso county.

Dorenfeld said he would ask for the opinion after M. N. Christman of Dallas announced an intention of withdrawing from the session until the question had been decided and he would see commission could proceed legally.

"The opinion won't be binding either way on Holliday or myself," he said.

Belief was expressed by both sides of the controversy that a supreme court decision would be necessary to finally determine the issue.

How They Voted. Voting to seat Dorenfeld were Commissioners W. A. Brooks, Jr., B. E. Giesecke, Jack Reed and Ed Hussion. Against the motion were Houston, Adams, Christman and

RULE FOR VETERANS GIVE BLIND LARGER PAY THAN OTHERS

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION SETS PUT COMPENSATION SCHEDULE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—The veterans administration laid down a rule today that blind veterans of the World War are entitled to nearly twice the relief given a soldier who lost a leg in action.

In answer to a written question it said that a blind veteran restored to the rolls by the new veterans legislation, is entitled to $150 a month plus $50 for a nurse or attendant, even though the blindness resulted from "willful misconduct."

"A World War veteran with a disarticulation of a leg as a result of combat with the enemy can receive a maximum of $119 a month," the ruling said.

The bureau then outlined the status of other cases as follows:

"A World War veteran who as the result of gunshot wound received in action, has lost the use of both feet or both hands, and is unable to perform any manual or eye or one hand and one eye, or is helpless or bedridden cannot receive in excess of $175 per month even though granted the rate for permanent

HOUSE AND SENATE DISPUTE OVER TAX BILL EXPECTED TO WRECK MID-MAY ADJOURNMENT

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—A tug of war between the house and senate on the tax bill today threatened to wreck mid-May adjournment.

House democrats don't like the idea of boosting income taxes in an election year and are ready with a big "no" vote to defeat the senate proposal for additional $150,000,000 in income and inheritance taxes.

The bill passed the house weeks ago as a $25,000,000 measure. The senate finance committee jumped it to $330,000,000. Senate democrats leaders now suggest the higher income and inheritance tax levies.

The senate is expected to pass the revenue bill tomorrow or Wednesday. The house then must decide how much of the proposed increases it will accept.

With democratic leaders marking for passage the tariff and stock market regulation bills and possibly a permanent air mail measure, the senate faced a legislative jam as it reached its fourth session of debate on the revenue bill.

Each bill conceivably might require many days of debate. Passing a bill would leave sugar control, bankruptcy measures, communications regulation and others still up for attention.

The house, with its legislative calendar comparatively clean, gave over today to bills for the District of Columbia.

Only the stock market bill and possibly a measure for regulation of grain exchanges along with communications control and one or two more appropriations items remain on the "must" calendar of the house.

Youthful Giant Is Electrocuted In Murder Girl

BELLEFONTAINE, Pa., April 9.—(P)—Richard (Big Slim) Bach, six-foot-six-inch youth, died in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary today for beating 19-year-old Rose McCloskey to death in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, after he had stoned her escort into unconsciousness.

The towering 24-year-old Philadelphia walked calmly to the death chamber maintaining silence.

Miss McCloskey, a five and ten cent store clerk, was slain the night of January 5, 1933. Her escort, 30-year-old Dennis Boyle, suffered a fractured skull from a rock which was hurled at the back of the head.

After a five-months hunt, police arrested Bach last June. He was said to have signed a statement admitting the crime.

POLITICAL KILLINGS MARKING ILLINOIS PRIMARY ALREADY AS CHICAGO LEADER FOUND SLAIN

CHICAGO, April 9.—(P)—Illinois will have a primary election tomorrow but Jos. T. Tiro, politician in Chicago's "Bloody Twentieth" ward, will take no part in it.

They found his body in the street yesterday, with bullets in his back. He was a precinct captain in a ward where there is bitter strife for control of the democratic organization, but he was slain while talking with a young woman shortly before his death. Police are uncertain whether politics or jealousy actuated the slayer.

They will keep their eyes on the twentieth tomorrow, nevertheless, for it is a ward with a history of bloodshed.

The citizens committee working for honest elections and the public affairs committee of the United League club charged yesterday that at least 100,000 persons have registered fraudulently for tomorrow's election.

Rusich, chief clerk of the election board, called this charge a "smoke screen."

Oklahoma Constable Is Slain and Police Chief Also Shot and Kidnaped

MIAMI, Okla., April 6.—(P)—Trapped by the sudden bark of two machine guns, Constable Cal Campbell was slain and Chief of Police Percy Boyd of the little town of Commerce shot and kidnaped today by two desperadoes and their blonde girl friend.

The outlaws were believed to be Clyde Barrow, Tex-desprado, his woman companion, Bonnie Parker, and Raymond Hamilton, Texas fugitive.

The shooting occurred when Boyd and Campbell sought to question the three, who had threatened passersby and forced some of them to help free the bandit car from a mudhole where it was mir'd.

There was a report that Boyd, too, had died from wounds.

Boyd and Campbell fired several shots at the three but missed. Campbell fell in the first burst of fire from two machine guns and Boyd was forced to drop his pistol under fire of the three after he had been wounded.

He was marched into the car by the two men, blood streaming from his face.

After speeding westward about three miles from the shooting scene, the outlaw car fired again and was dragged free by A. N. Butterfield, a farmer, while the men stood by with their guns trained on him.

Butterfield said that he could not see Boyd in the car and that he was told by one of them that they had "just killed two men."

Sheriff Dee Watters and a posse of 15 officers hurried along the road the bandits traveled as far as Chetopah, Kan., without seeing them.

Andy Walker, manager of the hotel at Chetopah, Kan., said that he saw the car on his way to the hotel and planned to fly over the "timber hills" section west of Commerce in an attempt to spot the fleeing car.

The Commerce officers were notified of the presence of the three by a man in a car who passed the mired machine despite threats that he would be shot unless stopped.

Officers moved down the road, however, and had freed the car just as Boyd and Campbell arrived. Charles Dodson, who lives nearby, came up and saw the outlaws forcing the wounded man into the machine.

Campbell was struck by only one bullet. It pierced his heart. Beside him where he lay lay his revolver, with three bullets fired. Three bullet holes were found in the car.

Dodson, who got a good look at the two men, said one was about 23 years old and weighed about 125 pounds. The other was slightly older and heavier. Both had light complexions and one of the men had what appeared to be a skin disease showing on his face.

Residents of Commerce said they saw the woman driving a Buick machine about the streets yesterday and saw the men with her cruising the streets earlier today. The opinion was expressed by officers that possibly the woman was a accomplice in the robbery and was just as well to rob a bank at Commerce.

Eye Witness Story. Charles Dodson, a truck driver, gave the first comprehensive account of what occurred. He was an eye witness.

"I was passing this car stuck in the mud when they hailed me and asked me to pull them out on dry land," he said.

Some other people whom I did not know came up and were helping."

"The men said if I didn't hurry they would shoot me."

"A man who was passing heard this and hurried into town and told the officers and just as we got the car out of the mud, the officers arrived."

"Those in the car started the shooting and they must have fired 15 or 20 shots. The officers fired only three or four."

"Then the police chief was loaded into the car and they headed out fast, over the Stepp's Ford bridge across the Neosho west and north."

Campbell was 63 years old. Boyd is a younger man, about 35.

HI-SCHOOL STADIUM PROJECTS EXPECTED TO BE APPROVED SOON

(Special to the Daily Sun). WASHINGTON, April 7.—(ICN)—Further new employment for Corsicana was foreshadowed here today when Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, public works administrator, announced that he had entered on the regular daily docket of the public works administration the amount $1,700,000 for the construction of a high school stadium and other improvements for that city.

The item listed on the docket as No. 8408, which is now under consideration by the administration, which will be acted upon as soon as the proper negotiations can be put through. Calls for a loan expenditure of $13,600. The project has been entered as an emergency measure with view of providing as immediate re-employment as possible.

Reward Paid For Dead Robber At Alto on Monday

ALTO, April 9.—(P)—Four men were responsible for the slaying of a man who tried to rob the Continental State bank here March 5 today had in their pockets the reward offered by the Texas Bankers' association for dead robbers.

C. K. Smith, representing the association, paid C. M. Earle, city marshal, $1,700; Gus Rounsaville, president, and J. A. Shattuck, cashier of the bank $680 each and C. E. Woods postmaster, $340.

Earle received the largest amount because it was his bullet which killed the man, identified as Fred King.

NAVARRO COUNTY AS COUNTY DOES NOT OWE MONEY

FINANCIAL POSITION IS EXCELLENT ACCORDING TO AUDITOR J. M. TULLOS

"Navarro county as a county does not owe any money."

This statement was made Friday morning by J. M. Tullios, county auditor, when queried relative to the financial status of Navarro county.

There are outstanding road district bonds, school bonds, etc., but there are no road bonds or other bonds in default, the auditor pointed out which places Navarro county in a fine position financially as compared with other counties of Texas.

The consolidated Road District No. 1 was unable to pay 1933 maturing assessments for interest and principal for several months last year, but through no fault of the local officials of the county. It was occasioned when the state advised the local officials that the state could not pay as much of the maturing bonds and interest as originally agreed due to a loss in anticipated revenue. It was too late for the local officials to have the state announced it was unable to care for the amount designated.

Consolidated Road District No. 1 sent $78,600.37 to the state April 1 for the $25,000, maturing bonds and $45,550 interest due on that date. The state paid $42,859.63 as that part due for the portion of the bonds used in the construction and improvement of state highways.

The state paid $121,550 due April 1. Outstanding warrants.

There is outstanding $12,000 road and bridge warrants following the payment of $2,000 April 1, Tullios said. The balance of $10,000 is on hand to pay the entire $12,000. He said that when he became auditor of Navarro county in 1921, the road and bridge fund indebtedness was $80,000, and has been reduced $71,000 since that time.

Also, courthouse bonds in the sum of $63,000 have been retired since Tullios became county auditor. The courthouse bonds were issued in 1919, but were not paid until 1929, effecting a large interest saving due to the fact that the commissioners issued optional bonds which could be payable any time.

Taxes Collected. County tax collected for 1933 was 68.2 per cent, according to the auditor, who estimates that due to the split tax payment by large tax payers, the percent of paid taxes in precinct 1 will be 80 per cent and the county 75 per cent by July 1. Split tax payments are not required until July 1. Additional revenue is expected to be $300,000 and will make a $400,000 addition to the P. and S. hospital, a county institution.

There are some bills and other indebtedness against the county at the present time, but there is more than sufficient funds to meet them, the auditor pointed out.

Many Bonds Retired. Many bonds of Consolidated Road District No. 1 have been retired. Bonds in the sum of $2,278,000 were voted and issued in 1927 and there were $412,000 old road bonds outstanding. Since that time $522,000 principal, plus interest, have been retired at the new issue, and $131,000 of the old bonds. There are $281,000 old bonds outstanding and $1,748,000 of the new consolidated series, making a total of $2,029,000. There are $52,000 of interest and sinking fund of the old district No. 1 to be used in the retirement of the bonds, when the old debt is retired, bringing the road bond indebtedness to be raised within Consolidated Road District No. 1 below the $2,000,000 mark.

Army Flier Is Killed In Leap From His Plane

ALTOONA, Pa., April 6.—(P)—The body of Second Lieutenant John Leland McAllister, 25, who leaped from his falling airplane, was moved to the Duncansville airfield today by word from federal authorities.

Farmers who saw the crash near Altoona yesterday, said the pursuit ship was losing altitude as it sped through this mountainous region and then heigh the 200 feet the pilot stood up and jumped.

The farmers found the body of McAllister, a resident of McConville, Pa., tangled under a tree about 80 feet from the wreckage of the plane.

Other fliers could give no reason for the crash. They said visibility was "fairly good."

The body was taken to his way from Langley Field, Va., to Cleveland. He had been flying the mail from Cleveland to Chicago for the past month.

Lieutenant McAllister received his "wings" just three years ago.

MRS. OLIVE SEAGO DIED HERE SATURDAY BURIED AT DRESDEN

Funeral services for Mrs. Olive Seago, aged 63 years, resident of Navarro county for more than 20 years, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Borden, 315 East Tenth avenue, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock were held at Dresden cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock where interment was made.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Borden, Corsicana; Mrs. Bettie Harris, Galveston; and Mrs. Eunice Gaynor, Purdon; two sons, Houston, Grifton, Roane; and Walter Seago, Corsicana; two brothers, E. L. Stuckey, San Antonio, and Q. Q. Dickson, Purdon; and other relatives.

The funeral was directed by the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home.

Many Lives Lost In Cliff-Slide Norway Fjord

OSLO, April 7.—(P)—The worst disaster Norway has experienced in several decades occurred today when two little west coast fishing villages were overwhelmed by huge waves and a crag overhanging the fjord on which they lay crashed into the sea.

More than 50 persons drowned, among them children, as the crag tumbled over the village of Traffjord and Fjoraa and swept a half mile inland, beating down everything in their path.

The helpless villagers were taken to the water by the waves in their homes, which were mainly of timber. Most of the houses were carried off bodily.

When the waves retreated the shores were littered with debris and bodies. Many dead were believed buried under the ruins of other buildings.

A steamer was dispatched from Aalesund to help the survivors, and the government telegraphed officers of aid.

All boats in the harbor were flung up on the shore, while at several points motor cars and other vehicles were carried along distance inland by the tremendous waves.

The disaster occurred at Korsnaes Fjord. The two villages are on opposite banks.

MARBLE FALLS MAN CONFESSES ROBBERY OF BANK THURSDAY

AUSTIN, April 6.—(P)—A young Marble Falls man confessed today to the $1,778 robbery yesterday of the Home State Bank at Marble Falls, E. N. Nitschke, superintendent of the Austin police bureau, announced.

Nitschke said the man confessed to him and Sheriff H. A. Barnett of Burnet county. The man was arrested last night at Marble Falls and brought to Austin.

The Sheriff Barnett, who returned the man to the Burnet county jail, said filing of a charge against the man would be delayed pending further investigation of the robbery.

According to Nitschke, the man confessed he had planned to rob the bank for some time. Recently he had frequented the location to acquaint himself with the location.

Finding the front door of the bank closed but not locked, Nitschke said, the man entered and obtained the money. As he left the bank, he met Walter Cox, insurance agent, in an alleyway in the bank. Cox then notified Cashier D. E. Fowler, who had closed the bank for lunch, of the robbery.

Returning to his home, the man related he stuffed the money in a shirt and hid it in an attic room in the attic of the house where he roomed. It was recovered. Then he went down town where he remained until taken into custody last night.

A batch of Gypsies, five men and five women, arrested near Burnet in the investigation, were held in the Burnet county jail for federal authorities after a quantity of one of their own money was found.

Officers found hidden in the floor of a large sedan about $1,800, several hundred dollars of which was in gold.

The progressive spirit of Corsicana, through Mr. Lowry Martin, president of the Corsicana Centennial, is being expressed in a new Mexican plant, vividly beautiful, has been brought to the notice of flower lovers hereabout. This new plant, by name, was discovered two years ago across the border. Its dazzling orange-scarlet flowers are characteristic of the flower of our Spanish-American neighbors. As there is nothing really new under the sun, this same Tithonia was offered in 1858 by the Peruvians to the world's fair at Philadelphia. It seems unbelievable that a plant of such striking loveliness could have been lost to civilization for four centuries. Tithonia blooms in a bushy, upright, zinnia-like manner, measuring 3 to 4 inches across. They differ in that the petals are more velvety and in that the plant grows to a height of 8 to 10 feet. It is suited to background planting, its imposing vivid splashes of color compelling attention. It is one of the few plants that may be planted next to a private hedge, for the reason that its roots are shallow. As a cut flower—with 2 to 3 feet stems—it is unsurpassed in decorative value and lasting qualities.

Time to plant this strikingly beautiful plant that Corsicana wishes to adopt is when danger of frost is past. The seed may be planted earlier, in a box indoors, and the seedlings may be boxed, firm with board, press seed in, and sift on soil to cover. Keep in warm place covered with newspaper until seed come up. Graciously garden in full sunlight before setting out.

The Tithonia has been chosen a plant with which Corsicana wishes to honor the celebration of the 100th anniversary of our freedom from Mexico. We prove with this flower that we are brothers with our neighbors across the border in our love of beauty.

Any questions about this plant will be answered by the committee for selection and encouragement of plant for garden, composed of the officers of the Better Gardens Club and the Corsicana Garden club, and by the chairman of this committee, Mrs. R. N. Holloway.

The Tithonia flower is endorsed by the Highway Beautification committee.

Family Party Enjoy East Texas Scenery On Sunday's Tour

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Garitty and daughter, Sarah Lee, accompanied by Mrs. Garitty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Call, had the pleasure of spending the day on a scenic tour of the East Texas Scenery, and were dinner guests of their sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cash of Tyler. They went by Fairfield and Palestine, then circling back to Tyler to spend the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Cash.

TRIO MAIL ROBBERS ASSESSED MAXIMUM PENALTY BY JUDGE

STEVENS, MAY AND PETTIJOHN GET 27 YEARS IN PRISON AND $10,000 FINE

FORT WORTH, April 7.—(P)—O. D. Stevens, W. D. May and M. T. Pettijohn, convicted as principals in a $72,000 mail robbery here early last year, were assessed the maximum penalty by Federal Judge James C. Wilson today. 27 years in Leavenworth penitentiary and a $10,000 fine.

A fourth defendant, Joe L. Martin, found guilty of conspiring with them to commit the robbery, was given a maximum punishment of two years in the federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000.

The court denied Stevens' plea that the sentences be made concurrent with two other penitentiary terms he is facing for violation of the narcotic laws.

"If congress had in mind giving the limit to punishment for the worst offenders under the law, I don't see how it could be worse case than this one," Judge Wilson told the defendants.

He reminded them that a death penalty would have been possible for conviction on an identical offense in the state courts.

Stevens, the only one who offered anything in his own defense when they were given an opportunity to speak, interrupted:

"In state court," he protested, "I mean that I don't want to stay in the penitentiary long when they are sent up from the state court. When you get sent to the federal penitentiary you have to serve the entire term."

"Yes," agreed Judge Wilson grimly. "The last one I sent up for this offense had been serving 14 years, and he's still there."

James Cerf Is Named Official State National

One of the youngest active bank officers in the country was a new Corsicana honor Friday, following the election of James Cerf to the vice-presidency of the State National Bank by the board of directors of that institution Thursday afternoon.

James is the youngest son of I. Cerf, president of the institution, and has recently passed his nineteenth birthday. He has been employed in the bank for the greater portion of the time for the past three years and has been an active duty daily for the last year.

The new bank official is prevented from becoming a director of the bank by the fact that he has not yet reached his majority.

Charges General Of NRA Gives Up To Big Business

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(P)—In a general assault on NRA administration, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, told the senate labor committee that Hugh S. Johnson had "thrown down his arms" in the interest of big business.

The militant supporter of labor, the red-haired wife of the governor of Pennsylvania urged passage of the Wagner labor bill to outlaw employer-dominated companies.

She used kind words for the purpose of the National Industrial Recovery act in general, but she denounced the way it was administered in her state.

"The Chinese general throwing down his arms," she asserted, "but not an American general."

"General Johnson, eager to build up the power and wealth of Wall Street," she added, "has done so at the expense of the worker and consumer."

ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE FOR CITY PLAYGROUND BALL SUMMER LEAGUE

EIGHT TEAMS ARE REPORTED READY TO OPEN SEASON ON APRIL 12

The schedule for the city playground ball league, which opens on the high school campus Thursday night, April 12, and continues through September, was announced today by officials of the league.

The district will be headed by Dexter M. Keezer, who also will continue his duties as director of the consumers advisory board of NRA. Mrs. Mary H. Runney, chairman of the NRA consumers division, will have general supervisory powers.

Members of the council will serve on a voluntary basis, approximately seven persons to each team. The league is to be expanded quickly to 200.

Merely Experiment. Thereafter, Walker said, "if the councils perform an effective service, the number will be increased as rapidly as possible. If not, they will be discontinued."

"In undertaking the development of local consumers' councils," Walker said, "the national emergency council realizes that it is traversing untried and difficult ground."

"But in its determination to see that the recovery program realizes its fullest potentialities in promoting the welfare of consumers," he added, "it is showing the prospect of success, to test the possibilities of local consumers' groups to supplement the consumers' advisory board in the recovery administration."

"The administrators of both the NRA and the AAA who are members of the council strongly favor such an experiment."

Membership of the councils will be announced soon, probably at the location of the councils. Walker appoints the members.

SURVIVORS OF BIG NORWEGIAN DEATH TOLL WILL LEAVE

OSLO, Norway, April 9.—(P)—Survivors of the cliffside catastrophe in which more than 50 persons died on Norway's west coast were reported fleeing the locality today.

No further rock falls were expected, but it was believed few residents of the fishing hamlets of Tafford and Foraa would linger long at the dread spot turned into a death trap by rushing water on Saturday.

Sleeping residents of the two villages, on opposite sides of Korsnaes Fjord, were trapped by great waves which rolled up brother of the cliff, sweeping thousands of tons fell into the sea.

Ships bearing relief supplies were en route from Aalesund to the scene of the disaster, Norway's worst in years.

Older residents recalled that some day the cliff would fall into the sea—sending, as it did Saturday, a mighty wall of water over the flimsy houses in the villages.

More Charges Made Against Japanese

PIEPING, China, April 9.—(P)—Chinese newspapers charged today that the Japanese have launched efforts to strengthen their influence in Northern China.

The Peiping correspondent of 100 Japanese military officers had been dispatched to Chahar, Suiyuan, Shansi and Southern Hopei provinces to "get acquainted" with Chinese strategic matters.

Other newspapers reported the breakdown of negotiations for the return to China of the Malayu pass in the Great wall near the Tombs of the Tsing dynasty.

BARNSTORMER IS RELEASED AFTER PLANE ACCIDENT

RAYMONDVILLE, Texas, April 9.—(P)—Charges of driving an airplane while intoxicated were dismissed today against Floyd H. Rodgers, barnstorming flier from Edinburg, at his examining trial because no state statute covered the complaint. He was released from jail.

He had been held since the ship he was flying crashed in a crowd attending the "Onion Fiesta" here and injuring five persons. The examining trial was set before Judge P. D. Lissner.

Rodgers has been in jail since the accident. Those injured were John Butler, Claude Moran, Sam Emerson and two children, Julia Alice Duddleston, and another child about the same age. All live in Raymondville.

Butler, Moran and Emerson were passengers in the two-place ship piloted by Rodgers. The two children were standing in the crowd and were hit by a wing tip as the ship struck a parked automobile. It appeared that a landing was being attempted at the time of the accident.

GREAT NUMBER NEW NRA COUNCILS TO BE FUNCTIONING SOON

CLAIMED BE FOR PURPOSE OF HEARING CONSUMERS' PRICE COMPLAINTS

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(P)—One hundred and twelve consumers' councils are to be formed throughout the nation to aid in adjustment of local consumers' price complaints.

Frank C. Walker, director of the national emergency council, making the announcement today, said the plan would be on an experimental basis until it was determined how it would work.

Walker said the councils would be under the direct control of consumers' division of the national emergency council.

It will act as a co-ordinating agency to aid the national recovery administration, and the agricultural adjustment administration in handling consumers' problems, particularly as they relate to prices.

For the time being the function of the councils will be to serve as two-way channels for factual economic information on the operation of the consumer boards of AAA and NRA.

The councils will receive a series of bulletins from the consumers division of the national emergency council and will report to it on local developments of particular interest to consumers.

"As they become qualified," the statement said, "and the necessity arises, they will aid in the local adjustment of consumers' price complaints by obtaining pertinent facts and information."

The division will be headed by Dexter M. Keezer, who also will continue his duties as director of the consumers advisory board of NRA. Mrs. Mary H. Runney, chairman of the NRA consumers division, will have general supervisory powers.

Members of the council will serve on a voluntary basis, approximately seven persons to each team. The league is to be expanded quickly to 200.

Membership of the councils will be announced soon, probably at the location of the councils. Walker appoints the members.

TRIPLETS HERE; ONE TEACHER AT STATE HOME

MISSISSIPPI, April 9.—(P)—Misses Margaret and Ford Ferguson of Leesville, La., are spending the week-end with their sister, Miss Gladys Ferguson, teacher at the State Home school.

The Misses Ferguson were triplets and all graduated with honors from Southwestern University, Georgetown. All are teachers.

Their home is in Leesville, La. Miss Margaret Ferguson was in the court house Saturday morning and many of the officials and attaches met them. They dress alike and it is extremely difficult for their closest friends and associates to tell them apart.

Miss Lucy Albee of Carthage, Texas, is visiting her sister, Miss Arlene Albee, at the State Home. She accompanied the Misses Ferguson here for the week-end.

INSULL EXPECTED TO BE STARTED HOME BY MIDDLE WEEK

ISTANBUL, April 9.—(P)—United States Ambassador Robert H. P. Skidmore announced today that Samuel Insull might be placed aboard a vessel sailing for America Wednesday.

He said American agents expected to reach a final decision within a few hours.

If the Chicago fugitive is started on his homeward voyage Wednesday, it probably will be aboard the American export boat Executive.

Announcement that the departure of this steamer had been postponed from Tuesday, when she originally was scheduled to leave Istanbul, centered all attention to the probability this would be the route chosen for Insull.

Mr. Skinner said it was unlikely that a combination train and ship route would be decided on for Insull's return, but said passage on some foreign boat had not been ruled out altogether.

He said no difficulty was anticipated in returning Insull for trial on embezzlement and fraud charges in Chicago. Burton Y. Brown, third secretary of the American embassy in Istanbul, was ordered to accompany the former utilities operator.

"Insull is not a dangerous person," the ambassador said. "We anticipate no trouble from him."

STOCK EXCHANGE
CONTROL

Here are some of the most obvious facts about the New York Stock Exchange, applying in less degree to other security and commodity exchanges:

It doesn't want to be regulated by any outside agency.

It promises reform, but has never reformed itself in the past, and is probably unable to reform itself if it wants to. As a practical matter, any effective reform will have to be imposed by the United States government.

Anyone who doubts that reform is imperative need only recall the immense abuses preceding the collapse of 1929, and other known abuses that have continued to the present day.

The general evil of the Stock Exchange has been its operation as a gambling house rather than an investment market.

The worst features in the conduct of the Exchange have been inside manipulation of security prices and misrepresentation of security values.

Wall street banks have co-operated to make the Stock Exchange the biggest racketeering institution in America. The wreckage and ruin resulting have ended in a public demand for reform in security issuance, publicity, financing and trading.

It is necessary to preserve a free market for securities, as a place of exchange and a measure of security values. But it must be an honest market where the investor, and even the speculator, has a fair chance.

Present legislation for these purposes, though modified from original drafts, may still be too drastic, as Wall Street leaders maintain, but is best judged by experts not personally involved. If found so severe as to cripple the legitimate functions of the Exchange, it can be modified further.

ITALY COMMITS SUICIDE

Italy held a national election on March 25 and joyfully committed political suicide. There was only one ticket—Fascist. There was only one issue—the perpetuation of Mussolini's system in a new form for the next five years. This form is government by the Dictator, in his role of Premier, through a new Council of Corporations that will be controlled by him.

The citizens were voting for hand-picked candidates for the Chamber of Deputies. Their form of voting was "yes" or "no" cards. The "yes" cards approved the government's record and program, and elected a Chamber whose only function will be to assemble on April 28 and vote itself out of existence. The electorate gave this program a majority of about 99 per cent. Italy will soon enjoy some such government as the United States would have if, let us say General Hugh Johnson were in absolute control, unhampered by a Constitution, functioning through a cabinet of his own selection consisting of dictators for the various industries. Capital might be treated benevolently, but without freedom. Labor would have no right except the right to say yes.

People who have been so changed by the machine age that their grandfathers wouldn't recognize them are always saying that "you can't change human nature."

THE HOPELESS FUTURE.
The books are filled with chronicles of men
Who shook their old gray heads and spoke their fears.
They sensed that change was coming with the years
And all the world would lie in ruin then.
"No hope," said Johnson. Voltaire added sneers.
"Nowhere a love for what is good appears,
Soon slips the race never to rise again."

Should either of those scholars
wise return
They would not know their way
about the earth.
Countless the marvels they would have to learn
That were not even dreamed of at their birth.
"No hope," cried Johnson, clinging to the old.
Still, every day new mysteries unfold!

MORATORIUM FOR HUNTERS

The Marshalltown, Ia., Times-Republican has a suggestion for conservationists. "Seal all the duck and game guns for 10 years and confine shooting to clay pigeons," it says. "The most certain way to conserve wild life is to quit killing it instead of seeking to breed enough birds for the killing capacity of 2,000,000 guns in Iowa alone."

There is a good deal in that suggestion. Modern equipment for sportsmen, including as it does marvelously efficient guns and transportation means—both airplanes and automobiles—which take hunters quickly into hitherto remote and inaccessible regions, has put the game at a greater disadvantage than ever. Shooting at clay pigeons with guns and at wildfowl with cameras only for a few years might prove to be more sport than we think, and they'd certainly be useful conservation measures.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE AMENDMENT

The long discussed reform of our presidential election system, by abolition of the electoral college, seems to be getting under way at last. The so-called Lea-Norris amendment to the federal Constitution is said to have the approval of President Roosevelt "in principle," and may be brought to a vote during the present session of congress.

This would be a natural sequel to the "lame duck amendment," but will hardly go through without argument. There are always citizens who like to hold fast to old political forms merely because they are old. The fact is, of course, that our actual method of choosing a President is not the constitutional method. He is chosen by direct vote of the people, and their choice is merely registered by the electors when they meet to cast their ballots.

It has long been said that no electoral college would dare vote otherwise than as directed by the popular vote. It is better, however, that written law and living institutions should harmonize. We cannot restore the old aristocratic practice of naming a handful of leading citizens and letting them select the President and Vice President; so perhaps we had better bring the law up to date.

A special argument might be made, too, in these times, for abolishing the electoral college. If our government ever should be seized by a Fascist or Communist dictator, it might be done after a national election by getting the electors to vote him into office in spite of their pledges.

POPULAR BOOKS.

The curiosity of researchers at Columbia University has produced a list of 65 books printed during the past 58 years and circulated to the extent of at least 500,000 copies each. Not counting the Bible, which is the perennial best-seller, the top book on the list is "In His Steps," written by Rev. Charles H. Sheldon of Topeka. That book had a tremendous vogue when it was published in 1899. It is still selling.

Next in line, is Gene Stratton Porter's "Freckles," of which 2,000,000 copies have been sold. Three other books by this author have fallen not far short of that sale, making a total of 6,800,000 volumes. "Ben Hur" stands between Mrs. Por-

SOCIAL VANDALISM

The police commissioner of New York City is disturbed about the bad manners and thievery of the young people of many of the "best families." He says he understands the situation is just as serious in other cities. It has long been charged that Americans scatter rubbish in public places, help themselves to flowers and shrubs in parks, and commit other acts of vandalism away from home which they would not dream of doing either in their own or their friends' homes. Now, if the commissioner is right, the vandalism has reached the private home.

He asserts that the penchant for stealing and destroying property has reached such proportions that everything has to be locked up everywhere at social gatherings. Parents of means have stopped giving parties to debutante daughters at home because of the actual property damage and thievery of the young people. Not only are souvenirs stolen, but furniture is ruined, initials are carved on doors, and other incredible damage is inflicted.

It is a startling indictment of American manners today. Apparently the souvenir-acquiring habit has been growing on the nation. Confined formerly to chipping bits of famous monuments, lifting tableware from hotels and towels from Pullman washrooms, the thing has grown to a national disease.

There is one ray of hope. If it is as bad as the police commissioner believes, a pendulum swing back to good manners will come soon.

ter's leading work and Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer." Coming on down the list, we find "Shepherd of the Hills," "The Virginian" and "David Harum," all selling more than 1,000,000 copies each. Other books on the list are Bellamy's "Looking Backward," "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "Richard Carvel," "Penrod" and "Brewster's Millions." Among the first best-sellers of a more serious type were Wells' "Outline of History" and Durant's "Story of Philosophy."

A good many people reading the list may be surprised at some of the names included—and a little scornful of the literary taste they reveal—but at the same time most people would have to admit being among the millions or hundreds of thousands who made the books best-sellers.

The sting of a bee is bitter, but its honey is sweet.

THE NAZI INVASION

People who go in for the sort of thing may enjoy the spine-chilling yarn by Samuel Duff McCoy, in Raymond Moley's "Today," about the Hitler invasion of this country. According to the writer, National Socialists "cells" (local Nazi units) have already been organized in New York, Rochester, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago and elsewhere, with membership rolling up at the rate of more than 400 a week.

"During the last week of March, 1934," he says, "troops wearing a foreign uniform (a brown shirt?) have been secretly drilling in 19 American cities. The invasion is upon a systematic and nation-wide scale. It has been laid out and is being carried out by men professing allegiance to the principles of the Nazi party in Germany. It has had the approval and, in repeated instances, the active support of official representatives of the Reich."

If there is any such movement under way, the promoters are certainly using bad judgment. Nazism has about as much chance in America as nudism in Little America. Any member of "cells" believing in this fashion might well be lodged in cells of another kind—not so much for criminality as for lunacy.

BABIES' NAMES

In a Hollywood conversation some one remarked that it would be interesting to know how many babies had been named for a certain movie star. The idea took hold. The women whose job it is to sort and tabulate all the fan mail received at the studio involved were asked to look into the matter. The resulting statistics are a little startling.

During 1933 there were 203 babies named for Richard Arlen, 197 for Gary Cooper, 195 for Frederic March, Marlene Dietrich, Claudette Colbert and Mae West had, respectively, 304, 290 and 245 recorded namesakes. If this custom is very widely spread, school teachers a few years hence are going to have to number their pupils because there will be so many duplicate names in their classes.

And what of the children? By the time they are old enough to go to the movies, the stars for whom they are named may very well have vanished from the screen, for the popularity of these stars lacks the "true-fixed and resting quality" of Julius Caesar's favorite.

After all, there is something to be said for the suggestion made occasional-

ANTHEM AND THROATS

It is an old story that few Americans can sing the "Star-Spangled Banner" clear through correctly. It is a difficult tune, so difficult, some say, that only trained singers can do it justice. In recent years a few citizens have complained that its words are too belligerent or militaristic, but that criticism has not worried many. It is a thrilling song when it is well sung by a good chorus or played by orchestra or band.

The latest criticism is new and surprising. A nose, throat and ear specialist of Philadelphia maintains that the national anthem has ruined more school children's voices than any other song. The average child, according to this doctor, with immature voice, is so unable to negotiate the long steps between some of the notes that his voice breaks down in the effort and may be permanently injured.

It would be difficult for a person neither throat specialist nor trained singer to judge this matter, though he might make an off-hand guess that most children don't try to sing the anthem. They are more likely to be blissfully out of tune and unaware of those dangerous and difficult transitions.

It would be a pity, however, to have any sweet voice ruined by patriotism. Perhaps there should be some compromise arrangement whereby children would sing only "America" until their voices were fully developed, and should then be allowed to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" only with the doctor's permission and after expert instruction.

"Why isn't radio any better?" asks an article in Harper's. Probably for the same reason that the scenery along most of our public highways isn't any better.

"Look us over," says the New York Stock Exchange to the congressional committee, "and see how good we are." O. K., but don't take any counterfeit stock.

Yes, we're in a pitiful situation when we have so much of everything except common sense that we don't know what to do with our blessings.

Yet you still find pre-depression cheer in regions where nothing less than six hounds is considered a set.

FREE CHILDREN'S CLINIC IS URGED
BY LOCAL PEOPLE

Mrs. H. G. Brown and Mrs. R. W. Sheffield returned from Marlin last night where they took eight children to the free clinic held in Marlin Thursday. It was stated several additional children desired to go but transportation was not volunteered as requested. The return trip was anything but pleasant, the ladies said, as the heavy downpour caused water to be over the highway in several places.

In keeping with a movement now under way, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Sheffield will attempt to organize a Navarro County Society for Crippled Children, with the object in view of establishing a free clinic in Corsicana. The plan is a well organized state-wide movement with the object in view of establishing such clinics in every population center of the state. The ladies will present the plans of organization to the various luncheon clubs of the city as well as to all other organizations seeking their endorsement and assistance in securing a free children's clinic for Corsicana.

Those interested in the movement are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Brown at Brown's Hat Shop, or Mrs. R. W. Sheffield, Milled.

BURIAL R. H. POLK
TOOK PLACE FRIDAY
AFTERNOON WORTHAM

Funeral services for R. H. Polk, 35, former resident of Navarro county, who died at the Confederate Home in Austin Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, were held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the chapel of the Sutherland-McCammern Funeral Home with burial in the Wortham cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. I. R. Darwood, Methodist minister of Eureka. The funeral was originally scheduled to be held at Chatfield with burial there but the change was effected following the continued rains.

Mr. Polk had resided at the Confederate Home in Austin for the past six years. He enlisted in the Confederate army in Arkansas and served four years. He came to Texas in 1867 but returned to Arkansas, later coming back to Texas. He had resided in Navarro county since 1888 in the Chatfield community. Surviving are a son, Oscar Polk, Brownfield; three daughters, Mrs. H. H. Frost, Corsicana; Mrs. M. H. Holloway, Goodland; and Mrs. D. Jackson, Corsicana; 4; fifteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

FARMERS SEEKING CROP LOANS MUST ACT IMMEDIATELY

A necessity for immediate action on the part of farmers in Navarro, Hill, Limestone and Freestone counties who desire emergency crop loans was pointed out Friday by H. R. Slaughter in charge of the district office of the agricultural adjustment administration in Corsicana.

To date about 600 applications have been received from the 40 counties, or approximately one-fourth of the number who so far have received their checks. Loans are being kept to an absolute minimum this year and fast service is being given on the loans.

Those who desire loans and have not made applications should remember that the request must be made. The approved by the county committee, and be in the hands of the office not later than April 10, 1934, leaving only about three weeks for the remainder of the application. It is suggested that farmers who will need loans for the 1934 crops are urged by Mr. Slaughter to apply to their county committee at once. Congress has appropriated $40,000,000 for this type of loan compared with $30,000,000 for similar purposes last year.

CORSICANA'S MILK
SUPPLY PLACED ON HEALTH HONOR ROLL

Corsicana's milk supply has been given a grade of 92.1 and has been placed on the state honor roll according to information received Saturday by H. D. McAfee, city chemist following an inspection of Corsicana dairies on February.

The city was also given a grade of 94 per cent on the enforcement of the standard milk ordinance. The report showed that the daily production was 732 gallons of raw milk, from 25 dairies, with an average consumption of 41 pints per capita.

City officials were also informed that the report should be placed on the rolls of the U. S. Public Health Service.

HEAVY RAINS SENT CREEKS OUT BANKS
IN COUNTY FRIDAY

Rain Thursday afternoon and night sent the major creeks of Navarro county over their banks and delayed farm work several days more. Unless the floods are more extensive than anticipated the water in the low lands will not do extensive damage as crops in the bottom lands usually planted later than on the hill lands.

Land in some sections was badly washed by the rain Thursday night. Most of the corn that has been planted in the last few days is expected to come up farmers state, despite the fact that the rain was a washing, packing one. No material damage has been reported. Telephone lines in the rural districts were out Friday morning but service was being rapidly restored.

The rainfall Thursday night was 1.48 inches making a total of 2.43 for the past 48 hours.

cause of the methods adopted by a predatory few. Legitimate business is being preyed upon. Common decency demands that we pass an effective lobby regulation bill that will require registration of legislative representatives and filing of itemized expense accounts.

"If I am elected governor my first message will demand immediate passage of an adequate lobby law," he said.

Allred characterized employment of legislators by corporations interested in legislation as an evil equal in importance to lobbying practices.

"The people will get no relief so long as even a small bloc is permitted to draw down 'retainers' from privileged corporations whose interests are opposed to those of the general public," Allred commented.

Allred referred briefly to the anti-trust suit he filed against several major oil companies. He said the suit would be disposed of long before passage of the national recovery act except that one of the defense lawyers was a member of the legislature and obtained a continuance on that ground.

Speaking generally, Allred said Texans must confess shame when they see a state school, one of the state government with its antiquated machinery. The state, he said, has "rocked along in haphazard style with no constructive planning."

No Panacea for Taxes.
Allred said he had no panacea to offer for tax ills.

Opposing the general sales tax, Allred said it would be a tax on "poverty" which would fall hardest on large families, cut down revenues of home town merchants by causing an increase in tax-free mail order business and could not be applied to vast corporate wealth largely owned by non-residents.

Allred favored a more uniform system of assessing and collecting taxes to reach property now escaping taxation. He said two-thirds of the wealth of Texas is not found on tax rolls at all, he said. He advocates a reasonable tax on chain stores to protect independent enterprises.

Schools, he said, should be permitted to hold revenues now apportioned to them with such additional revenues as were needed to round out an program.

Referring to the crime situation, Allred urged establishment of a modern state police system, a criminal identification bureau and changes to speed trials. He blamed inadequacy of present laws on lawyers who are members of the legislative committees that deal with proposals to revise criminal statutes.

Allred closely linked crime with the existing system of granting clemency to convicts. "The fault is with the system and its inherent defects," he said, adding the governor does not have the time to judicially exercise pardoning powers. He recommended establishment of a pardon board composed of an appellate of the governor and the chief justice of the supreme court and court of criminal appeals, with broad powers.

Unwise and ill-considered exercise of pardoning power has caused large loss of life and property in Texas and other states, Allred said, citing that in one case a mistake has resulted in the wanton murder of at least ten persons with the murderer still at large.

CHURCHMAN

torney and Cannon and Miss Burroughs were indicted in October, 1931. Legal thrust and parry blocked trial on the indictment for more than two years.

The first public charge that Cannon had not reported the full amount received by him in the campaign was made by Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts in 1930 at a session of the lobby committee. Tinkham told the senatorial body that Cannon had revealed in reports to the clerk of the house only part of a contribution from E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist. Jameson paid in $5,500. Miss Burroughs, a treasurer of the anti-Smith committee at Richmond, reported disbursement of $17,800 of Jameson's gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kivan and daughter, Miss Joy and Joyce and son, Hulen, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stubbs in Wortham.

J. W. Radford and W. F. Fisher visited in Mexia Monday.

Committee a few days later, Cannon refused to testify as to the campaign funds, charging that the committee lacked authority to ask such questions.

He also challenged a later committee's authority in press statements and did not accept an invitation from Senator Gerald P. Nye, chairman, to explain from the witness stand some of his financial transactions during the campaign.

As officials of banks in which Cannon kept money in 1928 and contributors marched to the Nye witness stand, Cannon asked an injunction against the committee proceeding. The court let the committee alone.

A bulging committee record, which included direct testimony by Cannon, was given District Attorney Leo A. Rover on September 1, 1931. Six weeks later a grand jury returned the indictment.

Battle in Courts.
Cannon in November, 1931, entered district court here to ask quashing of the charge. The corrupt practices law, which he said, was unconstitutional and the indictment, itself, faulty. The unreported $48,000 of Jameson's money, he said, was spent within the state boundaries of Virginia and was outside federal jurisdiction.

Without passing on the constitutionality of the law, Judge James Proctor of the District of Columbia supreme court held that the indictment was improperly drawn. Proctor was reversed by the District of Columbia court of appeals and Cannon and Miss Burroughs went to the supreme court of the United States.

That court held the law constitutional and the indictment proper, in part.

Our Basic Resources

When things looked dark, one had only to contemplate America's basic resources to realize how truly safe and sound our nation was. And one has only further to contemplate America's man power to realize how quickly these basic resources can be transformed into the very stuff of Prosperity. The link between the two is the Commercial Bank, ever ready to encourage expansion and enterprise.

We Invite Commercial Accounts Large and Small.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes will be answered by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (5-cent) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated pamphlet, "BEAUTY," ten cents in stamps will fully answer. Must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

A STEAM TREATMENT.

Learn how to steam your face properly and you will have a clear and healthy skin, fine pores, and a good circulation of blood through the skin—an important thing, for this will also help keep away the wrinkles. But if you steam the face the wrong way, you can enlarge the pores, dry the skin, and encourage wrinkles.

The first step is to wring a small Turkish towel from fairly hot water, and to hold this over the face, wiping the skin as you take away the towel. Wring it again from hot water and hold over the face. Make a lather of suds from some good mild soap (castile will do) and rub this into the skin. Rinse out, using the hot wet towel. Now wring the towel once more from the water, and hold again over the face. By this time the skin will be clean, and the pores open.

Now run cleansing cream into the skin, if you do this to cleanse only, and steam this out—the cream gets well down into the pores, softening and loosening deeply embedded dirt. Renewing the cream three or four times removes the cream, and with it whatever this has loosened.

It does make it seem as though your face were a sort of dirty floor to be mopped up—oddly enough, some apparently clean faces are! At least, apparently clean skins can hold a surprising amount of dirt and waxy substance as well, quite down in the pores. And it takes steaming and a lot of cleansing cream, or oil to get this out. A weekly face steaming as I have described will certainly clear away the most stubborn blackheads and make fine the largest pores. It may not require more than three or four such treatments. Close the pores each time with ice water.

ment abdomens are due to a bad posture. Lie on the floor, and rise to a sitting position, without assisting yourself with the elbows or feet.

SENATOR SHEPPARD
NOW DEAN OF WHOLE
U. S. CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(AP)—Senator Morris Sheppard (D-Tex) has become the "dean" of the whole congress.

Although only 56 years old, and much younger than many of his colleagues, the man known as a father of the 18th amendment has served continuously in house and senate since 1902.

Sheppard was in the house from 1902 to 1913, and since then has been continuously in the senate.

Vice President Garner is Sheppard's closest rival, having served continuously since 1903. Speaker Rainey also began his service at that time, but was out for one congress, and is now "dean" of the house.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) is the senate "dean", having come to Washington in 1907. At that time Sheppard already had been in the house five years.
